A CINCINNATI TRAGEDY,

Cincinnati, October 18—A terrible tragedy occurred at the Burnett house, in this city, yesterday. Mr. J. M. Hickey, lately of Syracuse, New York, and the manager of a theater there, is now managing Mary Anderson's troupe. His former mistress has been following him all summer. She thought he was going to marry Mary Anderson, and was determined not to be supplanted. She called on Hickey at the Burnett house yesterday, and plead to be retained in his affections. day, and plead to be retained in his affections. He tried to dissuade her from troubling him. She then asked for money, and, upon his retusing, drew a pistol and shot him in the forehead, also firing two ineffectual shots. She then sent a ball through her own brain, and died soon afterward. Hickey's wound is not considered dangerous, and the doctors hope for his recovery.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Two Fatal Accidents from Coal-Oil-One the Bessit of Carelessacss, the Other of Illness.

Special to the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Baltimore, October 10—Mrs. Mary Meister met a terrible death this morning. She had started a fire in the stove, and, picking up a gailon can of coal-oil two-thirds full, commenced pouring the fluid on the fire. A loud explosion followed, the can was shattered to pieces and the burning oil showered around the room and over the unfortunate woman. Her husband and policeman were attracted by her screams, and endeavored to extinguish the fire by wrapping Mrs. Meister in their coats. The terrified woman threw herself into the officer's arms, and was with difficulty taken away, and both Meister and the officer were severely burned about the bands and face. Mrs. Meister was shockingly burned from head to foot. Dr. Gaitley attended her, but she died about nine o'clock. An Easton, Maryland, dispatch says: "As Mrs. Walter, aged forty-nine, was preparing to retire last night, she was seized with an epileptic fit just as she began to ascend the stairs. KIND WORDS

From One of Our Mississippi Friends who Thinks that Memphis Cannot be Killed, Even by the State Board of Health.

Coffeeville Times: "In consequence of the revisitation of the plague upon Memphis, and being exclusively confined to that locality, her commercial future has been the subject of general comment. To make matters worse, the State board of health has added to her troubles, by the adoption of the notoriously known 'Rule No. 6,' which virtually kills al traffic in that line, and forces her customers to turn their trade in other directions, which is said in many instances to be made permanent. That this was an utter piece of foolishness, is abundantly substantiated in numerous instances. New Orleans has always had more or less fever during the early part of the cotton season, as was case in Memphis last year, it never interfered materially with the cotton trade. This cotton was shipped to all the manufacturing States, there handled in its various forms, and as yet, we have never heard of a captured spore, from this receptly discovered hiding place. It is a hardship worked upon the city of Memphis and the surrounding country, without prece-dent, for which the State and National boards of health are responsible. The people in this section feel deeply interested in the welfare of Memphis, they sympathize with her in her afflictions, and join her in retaliating against such unjust discriminations. Each subserve the interest of the other, it is a great cotton market and is decidedly the most convenient to our planters and merchants who do a general business. That the present epidemic, to-gether with 'Rule No. 6,' has and will inis too much vim about the average Memphian ing this season, cannot be denied. But there to let the great cotton center of a large portion of Mississippi, Arkansas, Alabama and Tennessee die witzout an effort. During the epidemic of 1878 we heard it frequently said that 'Memphis was dead' if the plague held on until November; but when it was announced safe to return, the city was in a few days repopulated, and did a larger business than usual, and so it will be larger business than usual, and so it will be again this year. It has been our pleasure of late to meet several capitalists of that city who announce their determination to return and stand square by her. We have also talked with local business men, who say that Memphis suits them better than any other market, and that they will continue their trade there when business revives. In view of these facts (notwithstanding all her troubles) we conclude that Memphis is not deadnether is she going to the and we conclude the members of the same street, or the same street, continuati, onto, open ustill further notice. neither is she going to die, and urge upon MILWAUKEE, October 11.—Judge Henry Hayden, of the Wood county court, a prominent politician, well known throughout the State, and candidate for attorney-general on the Greenback ticket two years ago, was shot and killed at Centralia, Wisconsin, last Thursday, by W. P. Cochran, cashier of the First national bank. The affair grew out of an alleged intimacy on the part of Hayden with Cochran's wife, the scandal being one of long standing. Cochran had separated from his wife some time ago, although no divorce had been obtained. The weapon used was a shotgun loaded with five buckshot, the entire charge penetrating the right side of the victim, killing him instantly. No words passed between them, so it is supposed the killing was premeditated. The excitement at the time ran high and threats of lynching were freely indulged in, but finally better counsel prevailed. Cochran delivered himself up, and was committed to jail, but the following day was attending to business. Judge Hayden will be buried Sunday, and Cochran have his examination Tuesday. Although the murder occurred Thursday, nothing was known of the affair outside Centhough the murder occurred Thursday, nothing was known of the affair outside Centralia till to-day.

SALT RHEUM ON BODY and Limbs. Obliged to go About Crutches. A Wonderful Care.

Crutches. A wenderful Care.

Messes. Weeks & Potter-Gentlemen: In justice to those who may suffer as I have suffered, and as a grateful acknowledgement of the cure I have received from the use of the Cuticura Remedies, I voluntarily make the following statement:

I have had Salt Rheum on my body and on one leg in a very aggravated form for eight years. No kind of treatment, or medicine, or doctors, during this time, did me any permanent good. My friends in Malden and elsewhere, know that I have been a great sufferer, and that my condition at times has been such as to make me despair of ever being able to find a cure, or even a relief. In fact, when I began the use of Outicura, my limb was so raw and tender that I could not bear my weight on it without the skin cracking and bleeding, and was obliged to go about on cruches. I commenced to use Cuticura in April, and at once realized its beneficial effects. It gradually drew the inflammation and humor to the surface and, as fast as it appeared, healed it. At times large quantities would come to the surface, eausing burning heat, inflammation, swelling and itching, which, under the constant use of Cuticura, would rapidly subside and heal. Each time these outbreaks grew less and less severe, and finally disappeared, leaving me perfectly cured I used the Cuticura five months and took the Resolvent most of the time, which were the only remedies I used. I think the Resolvent a very strengthening and purifying medicine to take in such extreme cases as mine, because the disease is so weakening to the system. Very gratefully yours,

MRS ASA R. BROWN,

ECZEMA OF THE HANDS

Cured. Interesting Letter from a Well-known Attorney. EDITOR NEW ORLEANS PICATUNE—Sir: Since the the fall of 1867, up to the last three weeks, I have been troubled with an eruption of the skin, which the doctors call by various names, but which is generally known by the name of Eczema or Sal. Sheum. The principal place of attack was my hands, which, at times, especially during the winter time, were very sore. at times, especially during the winter time, were very sore.

At times the disease threatened to spread from my hands and envelop my whole body. Doctors have been consulted in Philadelphia, Washington, and in this city, with no more success than a temporary relief. After considerable expense, and much pain and suffering, I had come to the conclusion that I would, as the saying goes, have to grin and bear it.

About four weeks ago I read in the Picayune the advertisement of Cuticura, for sale by our well-known druggist, Mr. Ly-as, and resolved to try it. I purchased a fifty-cent box, and before it was nall used the isease had completely disappeared, and I feel certain that mine is a permanent cure.

My object in sending you this lettre is to make known to other sufferers the value of Cuticura, and thus benefit, if ever so little, suffering humanity.

Yours truly,

Attorney and Counselor-at-Law.
